NEW STORIES

PREPARE YOURSELF FOR ANOTHER INSTALMENT OF INTERESTING NEWS.

NEW SPIDER SPECIES

Three new spider species have been discovered during an expedition through Australia's alpine region. The 11-day Australian Alps Bush Blitz uncovered a warrior huntsman that features a shield on its chest, a three-millimetre jumping spider and a wraparound spider that impersonates a tree branch. Arachnologist, Joseph Schubert, from the Museums Victoria Research Institute, found the new arachnids and said, "Most people associate spiders with the outback dunny door, but spiders are hugely diverse." There were 15 scientists and five science teachers working as field assistants who participated in the expedition. Environment Minister, Tanya Plibersek, described the findings as exciting and added, "Programs like Bush Blitz are giving us a deeper understanding of Australian habitats so that we can make nature-positive decisions for the future."

NO DRAMA LLAMA

A llama living at a ranch in Albuquerque, New Mexico, has been declared the oldest in the world by Guinness World Records reaching the grand age of 27. Dalai the llama was announced as being 108 days older than previous record-holder, Rapper the llama, from Washington who was 26-years-old. Andrew Thomas and Jill "Kee" Straits have cared for Dalai since 2003 and celebrated the animal's milestone birthday with burgers, chocolate cake and party hats. Dalai was treated to a personal alfalfa cake with his best friend, Gelato, the Nigerian goat also in attendance. Dr Kee described Dalai as "part of our family. He means a lot to us." The average lifespan of a llama is believed to be about 20 years.

COSTLY COFFEE

BEWARE OF FAKE NEWS

A Melbourne café has been selling cups of coffee costing $200 each with some considering the coffee, called Black Jaguar, to be the best in the world. Appearing on the judging panel at the prestigious Best of Panama speciality coffee competition in 2022, Nolan Hirte, founder of café collective, Proud Mary, was impressed by the brew which scored 96.5 out of 100. Hirte purchased 750 grams of the Black Jaguar for around $5,600 to sell in his Melbourne, Austin, and Portland cafés. Describing Black Jaguar as a delicacy for connoisseurs, Hirte said, "When you taste coffee that complex, it can be hard for the brain to comprehend. Sometimes I've choked up and almost wanted to cry." The costly coffee is made by Finca Hartmann, a third-generation family enterprise based in the Santa Clara region of Panama.

IPHONE FORTUNE

A first-generation iPhone has sold at auction for over $63,000. According to Louisiana-based LCG Auctions, the device was from 2007, unopened and plastic wrapped in the original packaging. Karen Green explained she received the iPhone as a gift and decided to keep it in the box as she already had a working phone at the time. After hearing about another unopened iPhone selling for $40,000, Green became interested in the value of her vintage device. Appearing on an American television show, Green was advised her phone would likely sell for around $5,000. The estimate was quite the understatement with Green deciding to put the iPhone up for auction. After fetching the highest bid of $63,356.40, Green confirmed she would invest the proceeds into her New Jersey tattoo shop.

MYSTERIOUS METAL BALL

A strange metal sphere has baffled authorities and residents after washing up on a beach in Japan. Located on the coastline of Hamamatsu city, the object was discovered on Enshu beach with a diameter measuring around one-and-a-half metres. The ball, believed to be made from iron, featured two raised handles on the rusty surface which started speculation it could have been a lost mooring buoy. After being reported by a member of the public, police and explosive experts in protective clothing were called to investigate the strange sphere with others suggesting it may have come from space. The surrounding area was closed off with further tests and x-ray technology used to reveal the mysterious metal ball was hollow and posed no immediate risk.

LEGO LEGS

A Mississippi box turtle has a new lease on life thanks to a group of young LEGO enthusiasts. The turtle, named Lieutenant Dan, who had lost his back legs was brought to the Central Mississippi Turtle Rescue with Jennifer Westrich deciding to adopt the injured animal as a pet. The First Lego League in Desoto County stepped in to help by building a set of custom-made wheels for the turtle. The LEGO-loving team was composed of schoolchildren aged nine to 14 who worked for two hours assembling LEGO pieces into a sturdy wheelchair to fit the animal perfectly. First Lego League member, River DeHaven, said, "It is really cool to see a turtle in its own tiny car... Being able to let the turtle go outside and enjoy itself was definitely a good feeling." The lucky turtle will likely have a permanent home with Westrich and her family.

FOWL-FREE NUGGETS

Popular fast-food giant, McDonald's has recently introduced plant-based nuggets to their menu in German restaurants. Available alongside the McPlant plant-based burger, the McPlant Nuggets are reportedly made from peas, corn and wheat with a tempura batter. The latest item was co-developed with Beyond Meat, an El Segundo, California-based producer of plant-based meats. Following a successful limited-time trial at nine restaurants in the Stuttgart area, the no-chicken nuggets were then released nationwide across 1,400 McDonalds stores in Germany. Future rollout of the specialty nuggets in other countries will likely depend on customer demand.

DOG DRESS UP

Rio de Janeiro kicked off Carnival recently by welcoming around 100 dogs in dress up. The collection of canines at Carnival barked and wagged their tails to the sound of samba music as part of a pet costume competition. The event called the "Blocao" – combines the words "bloco" which refers to Carnival street parties and "cao" meaning dog in Portuguese – saw around 300 attendees at Rio's Barra da Tijuca. Some of the quirky canine costumes included various superheroes, clowns and cartoon characters. Edson Chianca brought his 12-year-old Saori dog dressed as Minnie Mouse to the parade, stating, "It is a great initiative, this is a good moment for pets to socialise." Blocao has taken place annually for around 20 years with organiser, Marco Antonio Vieira, adding, "Some people have worked on their dog costumes for three months... There's nothing but happy people here."

PANGOLIN IN PRAGUE

A zoo in Prague has welcomed the arrival of a critically endangered animal called the Chinese pangolin. Born in February this year, the baby's birth weight was 135 grams with the animal given the nickname "Little Cone" because it resembled the appearance of a cone from a spruce tree. The event represents the birth of the first Chinese pangolin in captivity within Europe. The animal is native to southern China and south-east Asia with adults growing up to around seven kilograms. Prague received the parent pangolins from Taiwan last year to become the second European zoo to keep the species. Reports claim the pangolin can be difficult to breed in captivity as it requires a specific humidity and temperature within the enclosure and eats a particular food that features drone larvae.

ROMAN REIGNS vs CODY RHODES
UNDISPUTED WWE UNIVERSAL CHAMPIONSHIP MATCH

KRASH: You beat 29 other Superstars in the Royal Rumble to face The Big Dog – how are you feeling about the match?

CODY: All of it has been so worth it. It really does feel like I'm ready. I've never been in a WrestleMania main event, but it just feels like I owe it to myself to stay in the mental state that I am of being ready and not in that sense where you're faking it 'till you're making it.

KRASH: So what are the chances you will get the winged-eagle belt back?

CODY: It's my favourite title. I like the big eagle too, but the winged-eagle is my favourite. I went to Bret Hart's house once and he had one on his desk. It was beat up, but it was one of the road titles. I had such luck, I was really pestering about the (white) Intercontinental championship. And when I did it, they understood it. WWE was like, "Oh, there is a whole market for this".

KRASH: Roman Reigns has a very loyal fan base though…?

CODY: There is an argument against it that that's what Roman has held for three years. There is something special about that as well and there is a whole generation that's gonna go, "That's mine".

WRESTLEMANIA 39 STREAMED LIVE FROM HOLLYWOOD ON 2 AND 3 APRIL. WATCH ON-DEMAND NOW AT BINGE.COM.AU

KRASH: It wasn't long ago you had to sit on the sidelines with a torn pectoral muscle…?

CODY: Because I got injured working out, I was terrified of getting back to working out. My trainer has had to tailor the workout to where it's not gonna be working out that gets me. I'll do 50 of these versus six (of something else). He's been very good about still pushing me but not doing anything stupid.

KRASH: But was it a little bit of a blessing to be away from wrestling after your daughter Liberty was just born?

CODY: The ultimate blessing because she was 12 months, 11 months when I got hurt. So this crazy exponential developmental period where they develop and words start, I was there for all of it. Maybe it was meant to be that way. Her first wrestling show will be WrestleMania!

AIRSPEEDER

When Formula One Goes Next Level!

With the rate of current tech, it seems that having flying cars as a standard mode of transportation will happen sooner that we expect, but Adelaide-based Alauda Aeronautics wants to get there yesterday!

Meet the company's latest creation, the Airspeeder MK4, a hydrogen-powered crew-manned flying racecar set to premiere at the 2024 Airspeeder Racing Series. It also holds the current record for being the fastest hydrogen-powered eVTOL ever built – so it's no poser!

The Airspeeder MK4's whole vibe instantly grabs more than your average eVTOL, and there are many similarities with a Formula 1 racecar. The aerodynamic form is almost identical, with a carbon fibre monocoque in between the front and rear wings, and a single-seater cockpit in intel.

Telstra Purple
ALAUDA

MK4

between them.
Four repositionable propellers sit where the wheels would normally be, and can face upwards, forwards, or even sideways to help the vehicle lift off, travel forward, and make sick turns in mid-air! An onboard AI flight controller and gimballed thrust system allows it to manouevre like a Formula 1 car with ease!

At the heart of the Airspeeder MK4 is the Thunderstrike Hydrogen Turbogenerator, a 1340 horsepower, 1000 kW turbogenerator electric engine exclusively designed for eVTOLs. It provides a massive range of 300 kilometres and allows it to reach top speeds of 360 km/h in 30 seconds!

The earlier model MK3 has successfully completed over 350 remote-controlled test flights, and also showed off in two Airspeeder demo races in South Australia last year. Now the company is set to have the new MK4 slay its competition with the first-ever Airspeeder Racing Series next year, the first-ever manned flying car race - so mark your calendars!

But the question remains – when will we be able to use one of these for individual travel to and from the shops?!

HERE ARE SOME GREAT GAMES COMING YOUR WAY SOON!

FINAL FANTASY 16

A stack of information has emerged about this blockbuster new RPG from Square Enix. We know that the story will follow main character Clive on a mission of revenge that spans from his teenage years through into his 30s. Various party members will come and go in that time, and you can summon monsters called Eikons that have powerful special attacks. We also know that the combat is a lot faster than anything we've seen in the series before, more like Devil May Cry.

FORMAT:
PS5, XSX, PC

We love a good city builder, and the 2015 hit Cities: Skylines stands as one of the best. A sequel has just been announced for 2023. It will bring full and dynamic transportation and economy systems to the experience for the first time. You can see some of the detail in the transport system in this image. Plus, there's a huge increase in construction and customisation options, which includes the ability to modify what you place in your world.

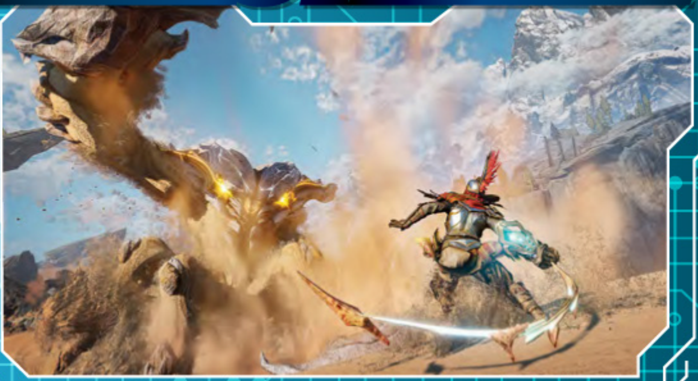
FORMAT:
SWITCH

The first big DLC pack to one of 2022's biggest games has been revealed. It actually comes in two parts. First there is The Teal Mask, which takes you on a school trip to a big mountain above a city in the land of Kitakami. It's said to be surrounded by orchids and rice fields, and a big festival is happening, with you put on a quest to unravel the secrets from the local folktales. This story will continue in the second part, called The Indigo Disk. 230 additional Pokémon will arrive as well.

ATLAS FALLEN

FORMAT:
XSX, PS5, PC

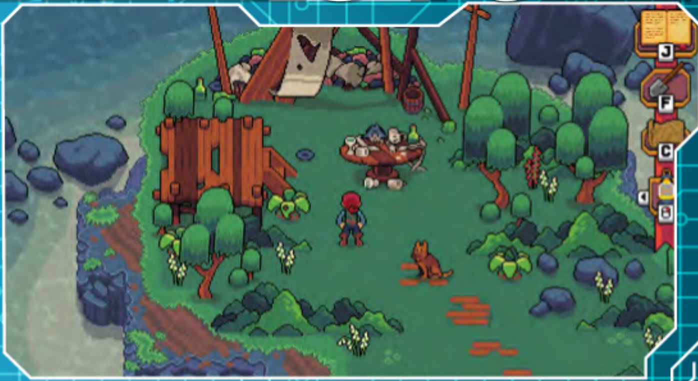
We don't have to wait long for the next epic action-RPG game, with Atlas Fallen due out in May. Set in a large, fantasy desert world, you'll need to use your ability to manipulate sand to traverse the world and combat epic beasts like the one in this image. As well as a solo mode, we've been promised two-player co-op, which is exciting. Early footage shows the heroes surfing down sand dunes, and combo-driven, fast-paced combat.



BILKINS' FOLLY

FORMAT:
PC, PLAYSTATION, SWITCH

This cool looking indie game caught our eye thanks to its old-school Zelda vibes. The fun story sees you playing a treasure hunter who sets off with his dog to solve the mystery around his missing family. When a wave smashes his ship and leaves him stranded, you must explore the world for treasure and use it to hire a crew and get a new ship. This will not just involve solving puzzles, but customising your map with clues, teaching your dog helpful tricks and entering treasure hunting challenges. Sounds cool.



HOT WHEELS: RIFT RALLY

FORMAT:
IOS, PLAYSTATION

The developer who created Mario Kart Live, the spin-off that had you driving a remote controlled car around your house using a mobile, is making a Hot Wheels game. Hot Wheels: Rift Rally is also a mixed reality game, which comes with a physical RC vehicle called the Chameleon. While it will always look the same in real life, when you play through a mobile or TV screen, the Chameleon can look like one of the 140 vehicles you can unlock. In campaign mode you can set up gates around your house to drive through, or in stunt mode, you can go anywhere.

TOP 10 PS VR2 GAMES

THE MOST EXCITING NEW TECHNOLOGY OF 2023 IS SONY'S PLAYSTATION VR2 HEADSET FOR THE PS5 CONSOLE. WHETHER YOU'VE BEEN LUCKY ENOUGH TO GET ONE ALREADY, OR ARE SAVING UP, THERE'S ALREADY PLENTY OF GREAT GAMES AVAILABLE FOR YOU TO TRY OUT. HERE IS THE TOP 10 YOU SHOULD TAKE A LOOK AT.

1 MOSS BOOK I AND BOOK II

- Both games in the Moss series are available on PSVR2, and they're must plays. Not only are the visuals spectacular, but helping your cute little mouse hero navigate the big wide, scary world is endless fun. Expect platforming, puzzle-solving, some combat and plenty of story.

2 NO MAN'S SKY

- The ultimate space exploration game is as big as the universe itself. Whether you're exploring alien landscapes, building a base or flying through the skies, it's amazing in VR. Especially thanks to its deep use of the haptic feedback and Sense controllers. And the game keeps getting bigger, too.

3 Horizon: Call of the Mountain

- This spin off in the Horizon series might have a new hero and story, but it's the same wondrous world to explore, only this time purpose built for PSVR2. There is combat, but expect a lot of exploration as you climb about the world.

DID YOU KNOW

Racing game Gran Turismo 7 also has a PSVR2 mode you can try out, and Tentacular, which we reviewed a few months ago, also works with the headset.

4 Kayak VR: Mirage

- If you're after an eye-popping VR experience, then this kayak simulator is worth a look. It's not so much a game as a spectacle. You do paddle and the realistic arm movements and physics work well. But it's the landscape that will blow your mind.

STAR WARS: TALES FROM THE GALAXY'S EDGE

This Enhanced Edition of the game looks amazing in the up-specced PSVR2 headset. As a droid engineer on the planet Batuu, you'll be firing blasters and flinging lighsabers around a galaxy far, far away. It's finally time to be in Star Wars!

Jurassic World Aftermath – There's few things as freaky as coming across a dinosaur when you're in VR, and this survival game will keep you on your toes and screaming in fear. Expect stealth and puzzle-solving in the world made famous by the movies.

TOWNSMAN VR

– Don't let the cute visuals fool you, as there's plenty of detail in this immersive world building game. Interacting with the map like a god, you reach down with giant hands to place and move buildings and items, or interact with people and wildlife. You've never played the genre like this before.

The Last Clockwinder – This innovative game tasks you with solving the puzzle in a room by pulling levers and turning wheels, while harvesting, chopping and smashing fruit. It sounds basic, but it's too much for one person. So, you teach multiple robots to redo your actions in any way you like to get the job done. This gets addictive quickly, helped by lovely visuals and a surprising story.

AFTER THE FALL

– If you fee like you can handle something gruesome, this first-person shooter works a treat on PSVR2. Combat is great, and you can play in co-op with friends, which is even better. But expect a lot of blood.

10

Unplugged: Air Guitar – If you loved games like Guitar Hero or Rock Band, then you're sure to enjoy that kind of experience in VR. You can see the guitar in your virtual hands as you play chords at just the right time, mastering the four different note types. There's a great song list, too.

MINECRAFT LEGENDS

Yes, a new Minecraft game! But this certainly isn't a sequel as it has a very different style of play. The setting sees your randomly generated world of Minecraft suddenly besieged by Piglin forces that emerge from a portal. Your task is to defeat them by rallying the different mobs from across the land to fight for you. This involves riding about the land on different mobs finding fighters, but also building out fortresses to protect your land and troops. This includes placing traps, towers and other buildings with abilities that are going to help you. So, it's a real-time strategy game meets tower defence; you command your troops, plan attacks and manage your settlement's defences. But you're also a character in the world roaming around collecting the resources needed to build. It's not just about PvE either, there's also PvP. In this mode you bring your army into a game, team up with other players, and then take on other teams. So awesome.

BAYONETTA ORIGINS: CEREZA AND THE LOST DEMON

This Bayonetta spin-off is a very different experience to the main third-person action series. It's a top-down adventure platformer. You play Bayonetta, but when she is a 10-year-old girl. At this time in her life, she is called Cereza, and she is still learning to be a witch while trying to prove herself to the world. The visual style takes on an almost cel-shaded feel, which isn't retro, but it's simple and like a cartoon. Exploring the expansive forest world is made all the more exciting by being able to summon a lion-like demon. Controlling both characters is interesting, as one stick looks after Cereza, and the other the demon at the same time. It can take a little getting used to. But once you get the hang of it, you can work as a team to solve puzzles and access hard-to-reach places. Plus, there are upgrades to be found as you go, which deepens the combat nicely. Surprisingly fun!

THE MAGESEEKER: A LEAGUE OF LEGENDS

If you're into the famed MOBA game League of Legends, you've got plenty to look forward to in 2023 with a number of spin-offs on the way. The first is The Mageseeker, which lands this month. It's made by developer Digital Sun, who impressed us with its Zelda-meets-roguelike Moonlighter. The Mageseeker has a similar top-down, retro-flavoured visual style, although it's definitely more refined. The action feels particularly fast and explosive, thanks to the special effects. The focus is certainly on combat, with dashes, magic and melee attacks linking together into epic combos. But there is also some light platforming to be had as well. You can expect quite the story, too. While set in Runeterra, the world of League of Legends, the focus is on the kingdom of Demacia. You play as the escaped mage Sylas, who joins up with some rebels to fight back against the people who try and control their magic. Far more than a simple indie game.

ADVANCE WARS 1+2: RE-BOOT CAMP

One of the best strategy series of all time is Advance Wars, which has been dormant since 2008! Thankfully, it's getting a new lease on life with this remake of the first two games from 2001 and 2003. It's a turn-based strategy game and battles unfold on a map full of square grids. You face off against the enemy, trying to build units and then move them into positions where they have a strategic advantage. This could be the unit's abilities, or because of the attributes of the tile you're on. For example, being on a city tile gives you a defensive bonus. When you attack another unit, a little scene unfolds and you can watch to see if you have enough power to defeat the enemy unit. And if not, whether they have enough power to launch a counter. The gameplay is simple, but deep as you have to think about controlling enemy supply lines, the terrain, fog of war and taking key positions. It becomes even more immersive with four commanders in a map, be they AI or human.

DESTINY 2: LIGHTFALL

The MMO, first-person shooter Destiny 2 throws you, your friends and thousands of other players into a planet-hopping, science-fiction meets fantasy tale. As a Guardian, you use a power called Light, and a huge arsenal of weapons, to recapture and protect the last city on Earth safe from alien threats and the Darkness. In Destiny 2, the Guardians have lost the city and their Light powers to the Red Legion, so are forced to flee to different worlds seeking new weapons and powers. There's been a number of expansions in the last 5-years, and Lightfall is considered the finale. Sadly, the story is a bit convoluted and doesn't satisfy as much as was expected, and the new city of Neomuna isn't the best. But there's still a tonne of new content for fans to enjoy in both the PvE and PvP experiences. This includes new locations, gear, weaponry, dungeons and raids. The highlight is a new subclass called Strand, who's grappling hook ability mixes up movement nicely, and the finetuned gunplay.

TCHIA

We love adventure games like Tchia. Set in an island paradise based on New Caledonia, its beautiful locations and vibrant visuals are instantly immersive. Your quest as the young girl Tchia is to find your kidnapped father. This involves meeting new characters, as well as using your athletic traversal abilities to find loot, minigames and sidequests on the way. Movement is helped by Tchia's ability to use a glider and a raft to get around the map faster. The real joy, however, is the soul jumping gameplay mechanic. This allows Tchia to leave her human form to possess animals and even objects in the game world. Soul jumping can help you solve puzzles, escape danger and reach new areas. There are 30 animals in total you can control. For example, you might soul jump into a dog to use their ability to dig to find treasure. Another neat trick is playing your ukulele (via a rhythm minigame) to do magic tricks like change the time of day and summoning animals. So cool.

LOGITECH MX MASTER 3S MOUSE

It's amazing how much time you spend with your hand on a mouse, so it's worth getting something good. The MX Master 3S has an incredible shape to it that perfectly cups the palm of your hand for a nice, relaxing feel. There's a stack of programmable buttons (7 in all), which is great for gaming and even in applications like Adobe. Not all of them are perfectly placed, but the second scroll wheel is awesome. You can have it synched to 3 different computers for easy switching, while the 8,000dpi sensitivity works a treat.

SONOS ERA 300

If you want a heck of a lot of sound from a small speaker, the new Era 300 from SONOS is incredible. Coming in black or white forms, it features six speakers. One shoots forward, one up and then there is one on each side, as well as a bass woofer one each side. New to the range, you can connect devices by USB-C or by Bluetooth – you don't have to use Wi-Fi and the app. Ultimately, however, it's all about the sound. It creates amazing spatial audio, so it feels like the sound is all around you.

SAMSUNG S23 ULTRA

The new flagship mobile from Samsung is a beast of a phone and one of the best we've seen from the company. The excellent new Snapdragon 8 Gen 2 chip makes easy work of day-to-day tasks and drives killer graphics for games. These look fantastic on the excellent, durable display, too. Despite this power, you'll get longer battery life with a solid 13-hourse. The main camera offers a mind-blowing 200MP resolution, too and even though the front selfie camera is downgraded (but still 12MP), this remains a great phone for Android fans!

COFFEE SOAP

Why drink a cup of coffee to perk you up when you could get caffeine and shove it in soap or shower gel so you can wash yourself awake! Well that's the idea behind 'coffee soap' – it's claimed the product gets caffeine into your body quickly through the skin. What next, Powerade bubblebath...

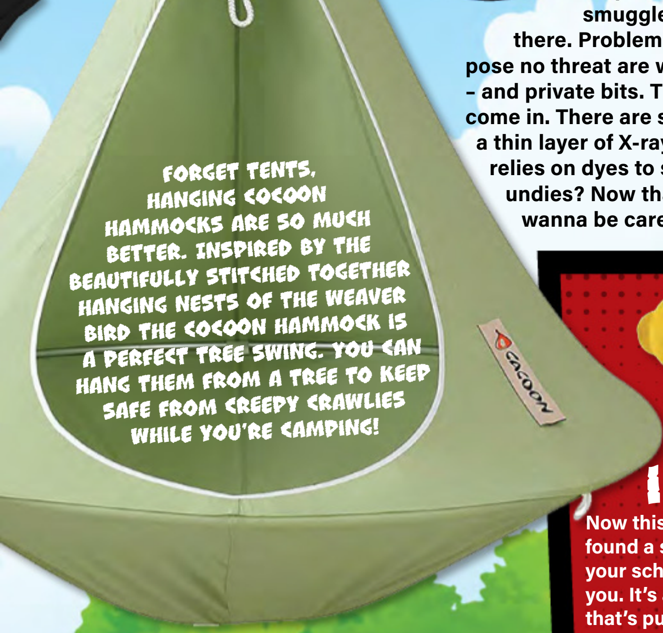
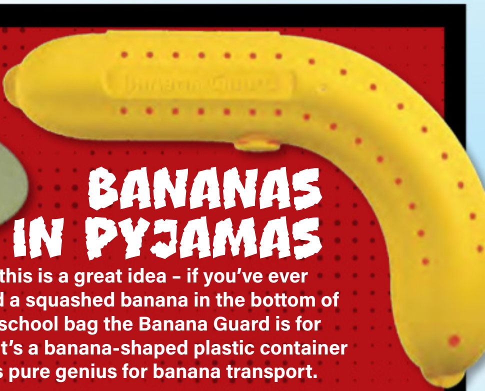
UNDIE COVER

When it comes to airport security, you can never be too careful. That sweet-looking granny could be hiding explosives in her pantyhose. That's why airport security is being extra careful these days - with new technology producing weapons small enough to smuggle in your undies it's a scary world out there. Problem is, a lot of regular passengers who pose no threat are worried about protecting their privacy – and private bits. That's where scanner-proof underwear come in. There are several types you can buy. One uses a thin layer of X-ray repelling tungsten while another relies on dyes to stop X-rays. But what about mousetrap undies? Now that'd give security a shock! You'd just wanna be careful they didn't backfire...



FORGET TENTS, HANGING COCOON HAMMOCKS ARE SO MUCH BETTER. INSPIRED BY THE BEAUTIFULLY STITCHED TOGETHER HANGING NESTS OF THE WEAVER BIRD THE COCOON HAMMOCK IS A PERFECT TREE SWING. YOU CAN HANG THEM FROM A TREE TO KEEP SAFE FROM CREEPY CRAWLIES WHILE YOU'RE CAMPING!

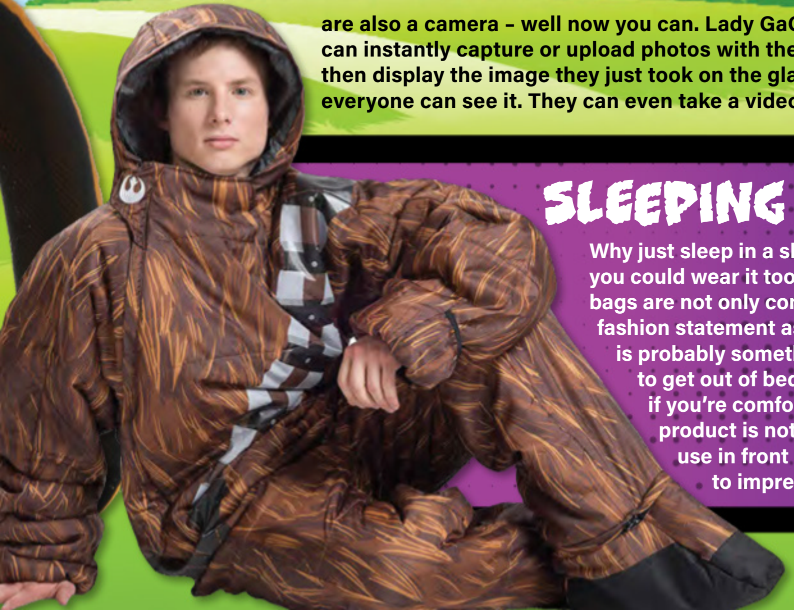


BANANAS IN PYJAMAS

Now this is a great idea – if you've ever found a squashed banana in the bottom of your school bag the Banana Guard is for you. It's a banana-shaped plastic container that's pure genius for banana transport.

HAPPY SNAP SUNNIES

Wouldn't it be great to have sunglasses that are also a camera – well now you can. Lady GaGa's Camera Sunglasses can instantly capture or upload photos with their built-in camera and then display the image they just took on the glasses' LCD screens so everyone can see it. They can even take a video. Soooo want a pair!



SLEEPING BEAUTY

Why just sleep in a sleeping bag when you could wear it too? Wearable sleeping bags are not only convenient but a fashion statement as well. The statement is probably something like 'I'm too lazy to get out of bed' but hey, who cares if you're comfortable. Warning: This product is not recommended for use in front of girls you're trying to impress.

PRANKS

Terrorise your friends and family with our black list of classic pranks.

THE SLEEPOVER TANGLE

TOOL KIT
SOME SLEEPY FRIENDS AND A MEGAPHONE

THE SET UP: Next time you're hosting a sleepover, put on a really boring movie and wait for two or more of your friends to fall asleep. Very quietly and carefully, undo their shoelaces and re-tie the shoelaces on one friend's shoe to the shoelaces on the shoe of your friend sleeping next to him. This works the best if you have a line of friends you can tie up together. When the job is done, fire up your megahorn to wake them up and watch them trip over each other as they try to figure out what has happened.

THE PUNISHMENT: Let's just say that you won't want to go to sleep that night as your buds will surely plotting their payback.

SHAVING CREAM SMOOSH

TOOL KIT
A CAN OF SHAVING CREAM AND A FEATHER

THE SET UP: Here's another great sleepover prank to play on a sleeping friend. Wait until they are fast asleep, then very carefully spray some shaving cream into their open hand. Now tickle their nose with your feather. When they try to scratch their nose in their sleep, they'll give themselves a face-full of shaving cream!

THE PUNISHMENT: If your victim is angry, you can always argue that they did it to themselves!

JELLY MILK

TOOL KIT

MILK, GELATIN AND A SAUCEPAN

THE SET UP: You'll need an adult's help with this one, so enlist your mum or dad to help you prank your brother or sister. Ask the adult to pour the milk into a saucepan and heat it until it's just below boiling point, then add the gelatin. Stir the milk to dissolve the gelatin and take it off the heat. When the milk has cooled, pour it back into the milk bottle and leave it in the fridge overnight. When your victim pours some milk for breakfast the next morning, they'll get a jellified surprise!

THE PUNISHMENT: No harm, no foul. Although you may want to have some back-up milk to give them so they don't get the no-breakfast grumps.

THE FUNNEL FLIP

TOOL KIT

A PLASTIC FUNNEL, A COIN AND A BOTTLE OF WATER.

THE SET UP: Choose your most gullible friend or family member and tell them you want to show them a trick. Put the funnel inside the waistband of your pants, then balance the coin on your chin, and finally let the coin drop into the funnel. When they see how easy the trick is they'll want to have a go themselves. But this time, when they put the funnel down their pants and just as they try to balance the coin, pour your bottle of water straight into the funnel and watch their shocked face as they realise you've just wet their pants!

THE PUNISHMENT: You'll probably want to start running, and get ready for a wicked revenge prank.

EGG STOMP

TOOL KIT

AN EGG AND A BUNCH OF COURAGE

THE SET UP: This works best if there's someone in your family who goes for an early morning jog. When they are asleep, sneak into their room and place an egg in their running shoes. Wake up early the next morning and watch as they get out of bed, put on their shoes and crush the egg with their foot. They'll totally freak!

THE PUNISHMENT: Okay, so pick a victim who isn't too grumpy in the morning, and make sure you use their old running shoes that you can easily chuck in the washing machine when the damage is done.

OLLIE TO FAKIE

BEFORE YOU BEGIN THIS TRICK IT IS IMPORTANT THAT YOU CAN ALREADY OLLIE CONFIDENTLY AND BE ABLE TO DO A FAKIE ON THE RAMP.

1 Visualize yourself doing it first. Locate exactly where you are going to ollie on the ramp and do a little ollie first, don't go too big too soon.

2 It's all about timing and rhythm. Bend your knees, put your feet in the ollie position (back foot on the tail, front foot behind the bolts).

3 Bring your legs into your body quickly after you ollie, so that the board sticks to your feet.

4 Make sure your body doesn't lean forward or backwards, keep your head straight above your board.

5 Remember to always land a trick with your knees bent and look where you go. Congratulations you just landed a really hard trick. Congratulations! you just added another trick to your bag of tricks.

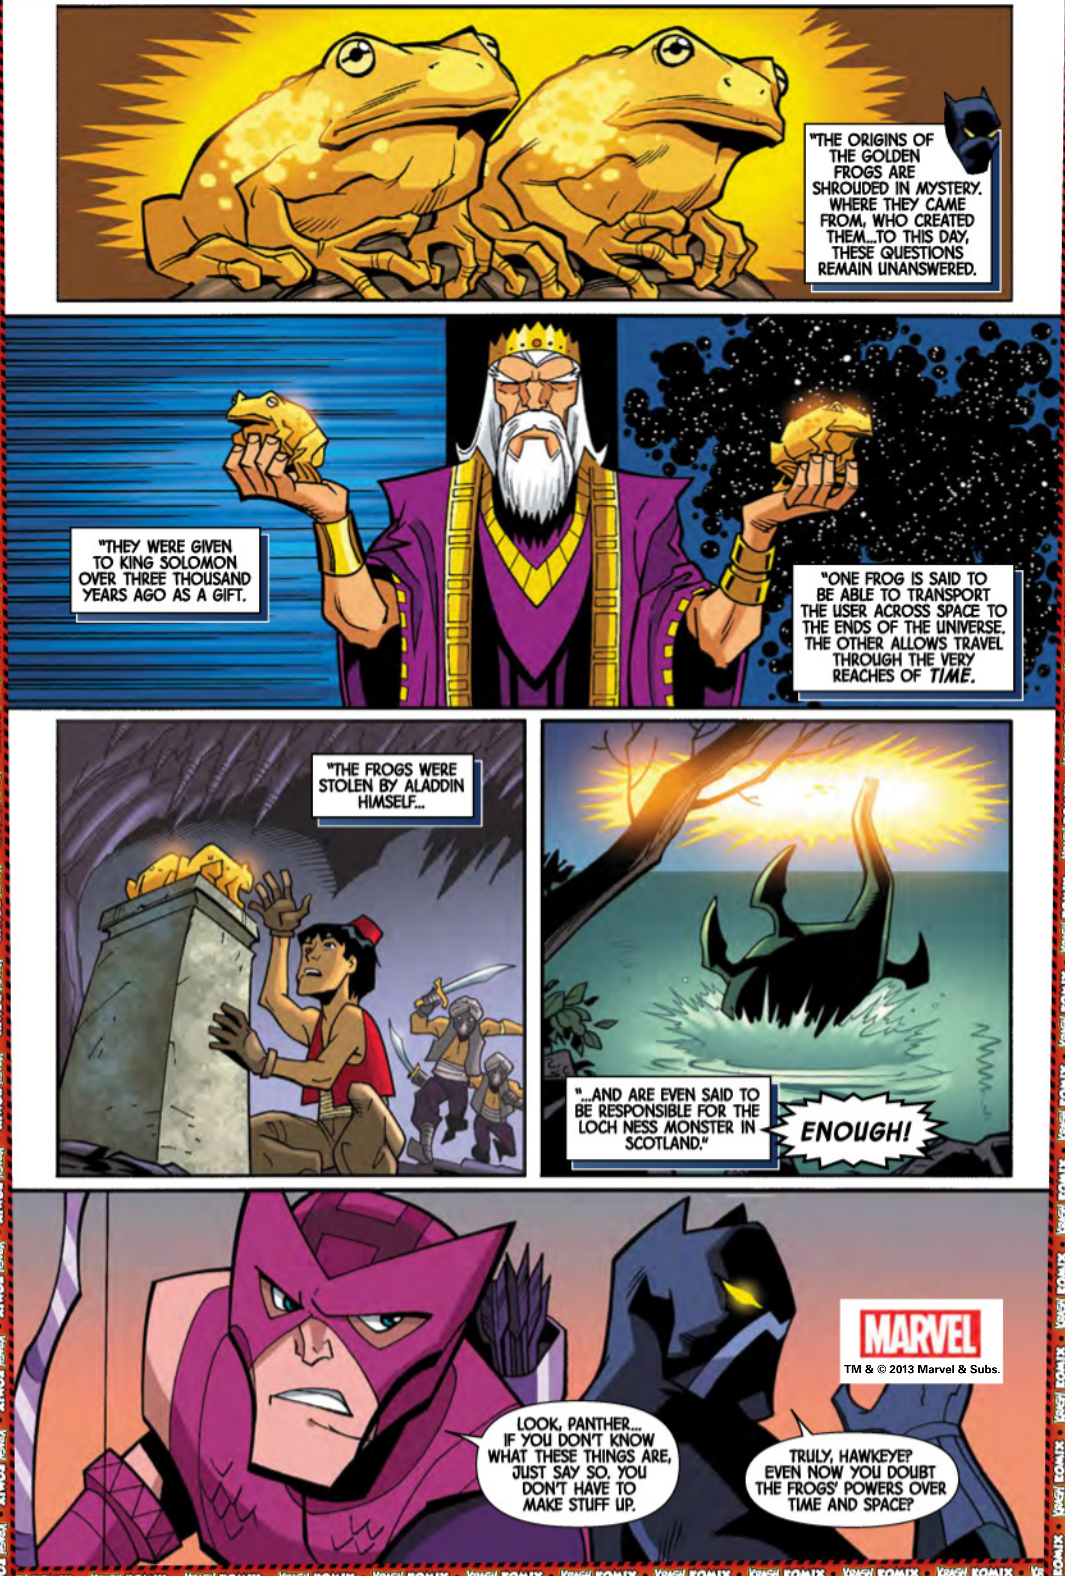
KING SOLOMON'S FROGS



"THE ORIGINS OF THE GOLDEN FROGS ARE SHROUDED IN MYSTERY. WHERE THEY CAME FROM, WHO CREATED THEM...TO THIS DAY, THESE QUESTIONS REMAIN UNANSWERED.
"THEY WERE GIVEN TO KING SOLOMON OVER THREE THOUSAND YEARS AGO AS A GIFT.
"ONE FROG IS SAID TO BE ABLE TO TRANSPORT THE USER ACROSS SPACE TO THE ENDS OF THE UNIVERSE. THE OTHER ALLOWS TRAVEL THROUGH THE VERY REACHES OF TIME.
"THE FROGS WERE STOLEN BY ALADDIN HIMSELF...
"...AND ARE EVEN SAID TO BE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE LOCH NESS MONSTER IN SCOTLAND."
ENOUGH!
LOOK, PANTHER... IF YOU DON'T KNOW WHAT THESE THINGS ARE, JUST SAY SO. YOU DON'T HAVE TO MAKE STUFF UP.
TRULY, HAWKEYE? EVEN NOW YOU DOUBT THE FROGS' POWERS OVER TIME AND SPACE?

"WHEN KANG INVADED OUR ERA, HE WAS DEFEATED BY THE AVENGERS AND RAVONNA WAS KEPT IN STASIS UNTIL SHE COULD BE REVIVED.
"IT WOULD APPEAR NOW...
"...THAT RAVONNA HAS AWOKEN. SHE MADE HER WAY TO WAKANDA, WHERE ONE OF THE ONLY KNOWN TIME TRAVEL DEVICES ON THE PLANET RESIDES...
"SHE FOUGHT THROUGH MY DEFENSES TO CLAIM KING SOLOMON'S FROGS."

SHAME SHACK!

Geez KRASH Headz. You are one crazy bunch! Check out these 100% REAL stories!

SHAME OF THE MONTH

Hey KRASH, this story is going to be the most embarrassing one you guys have ever heard. I was at the beach with a big group of friends, and it was a perfect day. We were all surfing, playing beach football and just chilling out. All day the guys were trying to show off in front of the girls in the group. We even had a push-up contest which I WON!!! I was on top of the world and was feeling like a king. When it was time to go home I was the last one out of the water so by the time I hit the showers everyone had finished and was standing out the front waiting for me. After I washed, I was about to get changed when a big swarm of bees flew into the changeroom, I freaked out and ran straight outside. I didn't get stung but the problem was I ran straight out into the group of friends completely NAKED. Everyone saw EVERYTHING. IT was MEGA SHAME!!! CODY

One time when I was on a walk with my friend in the South Island I saw a Weka in the bush and I thought it would be a good idea to chase the Weka like a seagull. As expected, it ran away so my friend watched me run round like a headless chicken and giggled. But I was fully committed to catching it. I dived onto the ground to grab the Weka but missed. I was on the ground very close to its nest, and it pecked my puffer jacket apart. My friend burst out laughing. When I showed my mum, she was not impressed. Lawreh, NZ

Hey, I'm Wesley, and this is the most embarrassing situation of my life. I am 12 years old and live in South Australia. On the last day of school last year, we had a games day where our whole primary school played games together. One of the games was 'heads down, thumbs up', and it was my favourite game ever. There were twenty students who got to play at a time, while the rest of school watched them, and I got selected to play the first round. I was so excited, I could barely breathe. I got into position on the floor with everyone else with my butt sticking up in the air when one of the players touched my thumb. But then something terrible happened. I was so surprised and excited that I let out a thunderous toot. I began to panic but then realised that all the players had their eyes closed, so no one could see me. But then, one of the audience members screamed, "DID WES JUST FART?" OH NO! I had forgotten about the audience. Ashamed and horror-struck, I stood up to run out of the room, but as I sprinted towards the exit with every single person in my whole school watching me, I let out a continuous stream of farts that got louder with every step I took. The worst part is, after I had made it to the bathroom to hide, I realised a little squirt of poo had come out as well, and there was a small brown stain on the butt of my pants. I WILL NEVER EVER LIVE IT DOWN! Wesley
